DEAR SISTER

You carry so much.

The mental load of motherhood. The pressure to hold it together.

The worry about your children, your marriage, your health.

The comparison game. The guilt. The endless to-do list.

This journal was written specifically for YOU - a woman who loves God but still struggles with anxiety.

Each day addresses a specific anxiety that women face:

motherhood, body image, relationships, caregiving, perfectionism, people-pleasing, and more.

For each day:

1. Read the Psalm that addresses YOUR specific anxiety
2. Identify the LIE anxiety is telling you
3. Rewrite the Psalm as YOUR personal prayer
4. Track your anxiety level
5. Practice the evening surrender

You are not alone. You are not broken.

You are a woman learning to give her anxiety to God.

WHAT ANXIETY LOOKS LIKE FOR WOMEN

CHECK THE ONES YOU EXPERIENCE:

- ☐ Racing thoughts that won't stop (especially at night)
- ☐ Constantly worrying about your children's safety
- ☐ Feeling like you're never doing enough
- ☐ Comparing yourself to other women/moms
- ☐ Physical symptoms: chest tight, stomach churning
- ☐ Difficulty sleeping or eating
- ☐ Snapping at loved ones then feeling guilty
- ☐ Avoiding social situations
- ☐ Needing to control everything
- ☐ Scrolling social media and feeling worse
- ☐ Difficulty making decisions
- ☐ Guilt about not being thankful enough
- ☐ Fear of something terrible happening
- ☐ Feeling like a fraud/imposter
- ☐ Exhaustion from carrying everyone's emotions

If you checked several: you are in the right place.

Let's bring these to God together.

YOU MADE IT, SISTER.

30 days of giving your anxiety to God.

You showed up. Even on the hard days. Even when prayer felt pointless. Even when anxiety screamed louder than faith.

You chose to bring it to God anyway. That IS faith.

Keep going. Keep praying. Keep being honest.

Peace isn't the absence of problems - it's the presence of God in the middle of them.

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee." - Isaiah 26:3
