YOUR BODY IS AMAZING (WHAT IT CAN DO)

Your body climbed out of bed today. It breathed thousands of times without you asking. It digested food, healed a paper cut, and carried you wherever you wanted to go. Before we talk about how bodies LOOK, let us celebrate what they DO.

Your body is not a problem to solve. It is a miracle to celebrate. Every cell is working for you right now, keeping you alive and capable of incredible things. Society profits from your insecurity - refuse to be a customer of self-hatred.

My body is worthy of love and respect exactly as it is today.

MEDIA LITERACY: SPOTTING FAKE

The average person sees 5000+ ads daily. Most feature heavily edited images. Learning to spot manipulation protects your self-image. Techniques include digital smoothing, body reshaping, lighting tricks, and AI-generated 'perfect' bodies that do not exist in real life.

Your body is not a problem to solve. It is a miracle to celebrate. Every cell is working for you right now, keeping you alive and capable of incredible things. Society profits from your insecurity - refuse to be a customer of self-hatred.

SOCIAL MEDIA DETOX

Social media algorithms show you content that makes you feel inadequate because insecurity drives purchasing. When you feel bad about yourself, you buy products to fix yourself. Understanding this makes you resistant to manipulation.

Your body is not a problem to solve. It is a miracle to celebrate. Every cell is working for you right now, keeping you alive and capable of incredible things. Society profits from your insecurity - refuse to be a customer of self-hatred.

COMPARISON IS THE THIEF OF JOY

You are comparing your unfiltered, behind-the-scenes life to everyone else's carefully curated highlight reel. Even your friends only post their best angles on their best days. Nobody posts their bloating, acne, or bad hair days.

Your body is not a problem to solve. It is a miracle to celebrate. Every cell is working for you right now, keeping you alive and capable of incredible things. Society profits from your insecurity - refuse to be a customer of self-hatred.

EVERY BODY IS A GOOD BODY

Bodies come in infinite varieties: tall, short, thin, fat, muscular, soft, dark, light, hairy, smooth, differently abled, and everything in between. There is no wrong way to have a body. Diet culture lies when it says only thin bodies are good bodies.

Your body is not a problem to solve. It is a miracle to celebrate. Every cell is working for you right now, keeping you alive and capable of incredible things. Society profits from your insecurity - refuse to be a customer of self-hatred.

FOOD IS FUEL NOT ENEMY

Food is not good or bad. Food is not something you earn through exercise or restrict as punishment. Food is energy, pleasure, culture, and connection. Your body deserves to be fed adequately and joyfully without guilt or math.

MOVEMENT FOR JOY NOT PUNISHMENT

Exercise should never be punishment for eating. Movement should feel good in your body. Dance because it is fun. Walk because the air feels nice. Swim because water is magical. Stop exercising to burn calories and start moving to feel alive.

TALKING BACK TO NEGATIVE THOUGHTS

When your inner critic says 'you are ugly' or 'you are fat,' you can talk back. Challenge those thoughts: Would I say this to my best friend? Is this actually true or is it my insecurity talking? Where did I learn this belief?
