WHY MEAL PLANNING IS HARD WITH ADHD

---

If you struggle with food planning, you are not broken. Your brain works differently.

1. DECISION FATIGUE

Every meal requires dozens of micro-decisions: what to eat, what to buy, how to prep, when to start. ADHD brains burn out on decisions fast.

2. EXECUTIVE DYSFUNCTION

Knowing you need to eat and actually getting up to make food are two completely different things. The gap between intent and action is real.

3. BOREDOM WITH ROUTINE

Traditional meal plans assume you can eat the same thing happily. ADHD brains crave novelty - but also need structure. It's a paradox.

4. FORGETTING TO EAT

Poor interoception means hunger signals get missed. You look up and it's 3pm and you haven't eaten. This isn't laziness - it's neurology.

5. HYPERFOCUS SKIPPING MEALS

When you're locked into a task, eating feels like an impossible interruption.

Procrastinating hyperfocus to cook? That requires enormous energy.

THIS PLANNER'S APPROACH:

Remove decisions. Make the easy path the default path.

Systems over willpower. Always.

THE 5-RECIPE ROTATION SYSTEM

---

The simplest meal planning system that actually works for ADHD brains:

THE CONCEPT:

Pick 5 dinners you can make on autopilot. Rotate them weekly.

Only add a new recipe when one of the 5 gets boring.

WHY IT WORKS:

- Zero decision-making on weeknights
- Grocery lists become automatic
- You already know you like these meals
- Cooking becomes muscle memory, not a project

MY 5 ROTATION DINNERS:

Dinner 1: _____

Key ingredients: _____

Dinner 2: _____

Key ingredients: _____

Dinner 3: _____

Key ingredients: _____

Dinner 4: _____

Key ingredients: _____

Dinner 5: _____

Key ingredients: _____

RULES:

1. All 5 must be things you can make in under 30 minutes
2. All 5 must use ingredients you can buy at ONE store
3. If you haven't made one in 3 weeks, swap it out
4. Weekend meals can be different (that's your novelty time)
5. Takeout counts as a rotation slot if you need it to

ADHD TIP: Start with 3 meals if 5 feels like too many.

You can always add more later. Progress over perfection.

DECISION FATIGUE ELIMINATION

---

The fewer food decisions you make each day, the more energy you have for life.

PRE-DECIDE EVERYTHING

Your future self should never have to think. Today-you decides for tomorrow-you.

SAME BREAKFAST DAILY IS FINE

Eating the same breakfast every day is not boring - it's efficient.

My default breakfast: _____

My backup breakfast: _____

REDUCE CHOICES

Instead of 'what do I want for lunch?' choose from 3 preset options:

Lunch option 1: _____

Lunch option 2: _____

Lunch option 3: _____

SNACK DEFAULTS (no thinking required):

Go-to snack 1: _____

Go-to snack 2: _____

Go-to snack 3: _____

Go-to snack 4: _____

THE 'DON'T THINK' FRAMEWORK:

- Hungry + no plan = grab preset snack (always stocked)
- Hungry + some energy = make rotation meal
- Hungry + zero energy = permission to order food
- Not hungry but it's mealtime = eat 5 bites minimum

REMEMBER: Eating 'imperfectly' is always better than not eating.

Cereal for dinner counts. A protein bar counts. You ate. That's the win.

RULE: If it takes under 10 min and you eat it, it counts as cooking.

Perfection is the enemy of fed.

BATCH COOKING DAY GUIDE

Pick ONE day. Cook 3-4 things. Fill the fridge for the week.

---

THE ADHD-FRIENDLY BATCH COOK (2-3 hours max):

STEP 1: Pick your batch day: _____

STEP 2: Choose 3-4 items from this list:

- ☐ A big pot of rice or grain
- ☐ A sheet pan of roasted veggies
- ☐ A protein (baked chicken, ground meat, hard-boiled eggs)
- ☐ A sauce or dressing
- ☐ A batch of soup or chili
- ☐ Overnight oats (5 jars for the week)
- ☐ Cut up raw veggies + portion snacks into grab bags
- ☐ A casserole or baked pasta dish

STEP 3: Write your batch plan for this week:

Item 1: _____

Item 2: _____

Item 3: _____

Item 4: _____

STEP 4: Set a timer. Put on music/podcast. START.

BATCH COOKING TIPS FOR ADHD:

- Set a phone timer for each item - don't trust yourself to 'just check'
- Clean as you go (or don't - it's fine to clean later)
- Body double: call a friend, watch a show, listen to a podcast
- If you only get 2 things done instead of 4, that's still a WIN
- Label containers with contents + date (you WILL forget what's in there)

PERMISSION SLIP: You don't have to batch cook every week.

Do it when you have energy. Skip it when you don't. Both are fine.

SNACK STATION SETUP

Plus: 'I Forgot to Plan' Emergency Options

---

BUILD A SNACK STATION (one visible spot in your kitchen):

Counter/shelf snacks (visible = eaten):

- ☐ Bananas/apples
- ☐ Granola bars
- ☐ Trail mix
- ☐ Crackers
- ☐ Nuts

Fridge snacks (clear containers, front of fridge):

- ☐ Cut veggies + hummus
- ☐ Cheese sticks/cubes
- ☐ Yogurt cups
- ☐ Hard-boiled eggs
- ☐ Fruit (pre-washed)

Freezer snacks (for texture cravings):

- ☐ Frozen grapes
- ☐ Ice cream bars
- ☐ Frozen burritos
- ☐ Edamame
- ☐ Smoothie packs

---

'I FORGOT TO PLAN' EMERGENCY OPTIONS:

1. Order delivery (have your go-to saved in the app)
2. Drive-through (keep a short list of your orders by restaurant)
3. Cereal, toast, or snack plate = a real meal
4. Frozen meal from the freezer stash
5. Call someone to eat with (body doubling helps)
6. Smoothie (throw anything in the blender)
7. 'Adult lunchable' - cheese, crackers, meat, fruit on a plate

THERE IS NO WRONG WAY TO FEED YOURSELF.

Eating something > eating nothing. Every single time.

EXECUTIVE FUNCTION FRIENDLY KITCHEN

Organization + Meal Prep Day Checklist

---

KITCHEN ORGANIZATION PRINCIPLES:

- Everything you use daily should be within arm's reach (not in cabinets)
- Clear containers > opaque (if you can't see it, it doesn't exist)
- Labels on EVERYTHING (your future self won't remember)
- Keep counters clear except your snack station
- One designated 'landing zone' for groceries when you get home
- Trash/recycling should be the easiest thing to access
- Keep your most-used pan on the stove (removing barriers = cooking)
- Paper plates are valid (if dishes stop you from eating, skip dishes)

MEAL PREP DAY CHECKLIST:

- ☐ Pick your prep day and TIME (put it in your calendar with an alarm)
- ☐ Review what's in the fridge that needs to be used up
- ☐ Pick 3-4 batch items from page 28
- ☐ Check pantry staples list - do you need anything?
- ☐ Write grocery list (or use the templates on pages 6-13)
- ☐ Go shopping (or order delivery/pickup)
- ☐ Set up your space: clear counter, get out tools, set timer
- ☐ Put on music/podcast/show (dopamine helps!)
- ☐ Cook item 1 - set timer
- ☐ While waiting: prep item 2
- ☐ Cook item 3 - set timer
- ☐ While waiting: portion into containers + label
- ☐ Clean up (or leave it - future you can handle it)
- ☐ Take a photo of your full fridge (dopamine hit!)
- ☐ Celebrate - you just made the whole week easier

YOU DID IT. This planner is here whenever you need it.

Progress, not perfection. Systems, not willpower. You've got this.
